

The Golden Key

Logline: A mysterious key appears in the hands of a lone character, leading them to uncover a hidden truth locked within their surroundings.

Script:

INT. ROOM – DAY

A single key lies on a table. A hand enters frame and picks it up.

The character studies the key under dim light. Its surface glimmers strangely.

They walk slowly down a hallway, gripping the key tightly.

At the end of the hallway, they stop before a locked box. They insert the key.

The box creaks open. The character peers inside, and a faint glow spills out.

FADE OUT.
